BOLD ATTEMPT MADE LAST MID-NIGHT TO SET FIRE TO OHIO AVENUE BLOCK.

"FIRE BUG" ESCAPED IN ALLEY

Blaze Was Discovered in Rear of C. A. Guenther's Store-Hundreds Swarmed to the Locality in a Few Minutes.

A brazen attempt at incendiarism was made at 12 o'clock last night to set fire to the block occupied by the Palace Clothing store, the Seddlia National bank and the C. A. Guenther dry goods store.

Late pedestrians passing on the street saw the flames enveloping the rear of the building occupied by Guenther's, but George Press, of the Palace Clothing Co., who had discovered the fire, ran to the telephone and sent in a fire alarm.

On investigation it was found that a pile of dry goods boxes were on fire Instantaneous with the sounding of the alarm S. E. Press, of the Press Clothing company, who was just clos ing his place of business for the night, saw the reflection of the fire through his rear windows and looking out saw a man rushing through the alley in the rear of his store

He distinguished an object in the man's hand, which object closely resembled a coal oil can, but on account of his doors being locked he was un able to get outside in time to trace

Mr. Press then directed his attention to removing other boxes from the vicinity of the burning ones, and with the assistance of others prevented the fire from spreading, and doubtless saved the town from another disas

In a moment hundreds of Sedalians were on the scene, including the was learned that a man had been The body was wrapped in an oil- seen in the neighborhood and, too, "firebug." No trace of the man was found, however, and it is a question ever be brought to justice.

The origin of the fire last night was damage to the Bell clothing store Thursday night and to the fire which the rear of the Ilgenfritz Hardware The Ilgenfritz blaze did not occasion a general fire alarm, but company No.

2 was called quietly to extinguish it. The circumstances surrounding the fire last night have doubtless given the local authorities evidence that a "firebug" is at work, and no doubt strong efforts will be made to appre-

Mayor Babcock was among the officials there and after making an investigation was thoroughly satisfied that the boxes had been saturated with coal oil and that the fire was nothing more than a bold attempt to destroy the block.

Mr. Press in relating his experience said that the man he and his son George, saw running through the alley was attired in a suit of overalls, with a blue shirt and wore a black slouch hat. To the best of their knowledge he was a man about five and one-half feet tall, of slender build, weighing possibly 135 to 150

The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and seeing the ed. blaze from a distance concluded the block was afire. Chief Willis immediately ordered a line of hose connected to prepare for a fight. He was semewhat dismayed when, upon ar- tures: riving at the scene, to find the fire to be only dry goods boxes. He ordered the water turned on, however, inasmuch as he had the hose ready for service and easily extinguished the blaze. The reflection from the fire caused

Chief Willis to misjudge its propensity, no doubt on account of the coal oil causing the flames to shoot high into the air and completely envelop the rear of the building.

It was quick work on the part of the firemen and they are to be commended upon the precautionary measures taken, for had the blaze gained a little more headway the entire block would have been doomed.

EASTER.

Yet again the gates of day swing wide, and we open our eyes upon a glad Easter morn. There is music in the air, and there is joy in the heart. On sea and plain and mountain-top the sportive sunbeams glint and dance and play. Heaven smiles, and far beyond the stars, far beyond the hearing of mortal ears, glad voices join in a deafening chorus of praise and thanksgiving; and everywhere, all about us, the open book of nature reflects the joy and song of Heaven. Well do we know that death lurks in ambush, ever ready to spring upon his prey; and yet, with peace serene, and hope and courage and trust, we ignore the menace and go singing on our way. What does it mean? It means that the swollen, turbid stream that rolls carkly at our feet has lost its terrors. It means that the blood-stained cross and the empty tomb that startled the world nineteen centuries ago are no myth. It means that for tearful, loyal souls who love and serve and pray and trust, grim death is but the prelude to eternal youth, to endless life. These assurances are written out in glowing characters upon the pages of Holy Writ, and they are echoed and re-echoed in every blade of grass and whispering leaf and opening flower. Yea, and our bleeding hearts tell us that in yonder land of song there are eager hearts and smiling faces waiting to welcome us. Even now, we can almost seem to hear the musical flow—the liquid song-of the river of life. Even now, we whose locks are silver, can almost catch the murmm of voices, dear and sweet and low, calling to us, Come home! Come home! Oh, the magic of those two words-Love and Home! Yes, our inmost souls tells us of a land of light and life and love, where never a burning tear shall plow the cheek, and never a musical lip be hushed in death.

Mr. Jenkins was 64 years of age and had been afflicted with the dis ease since last August.

From that time up to the hour of his death he grew worse gradually, and for the past few weeks his condition was such that little surprise would have been occasioned by his death at any time.

Mr. Jenkins was born on a farm near Longwood. He was reared in that locality and spent the greater part of his early life in that section of the county. Some years ago he moved to a farm near Houstonia, where he had resided since.

THE ISSUE OF THE CITY CAM-PAIGN.

The speech delivered by W. G Lynch at the mass meeting held i the circuit court room Friday night last was so good and so thoroughly discusses the issues of the present city campaign that it is printed this morning in the editorial columns of the paper. It should be read by every man and woman of Sedalia.

Mr. Lynch spoke as follows: I hope it will not be thought pre sumptuous in me in speaking to an audience of Sedalians in the midst of our city campaign. I have kept silence for three years, and I think I am now entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities of a citizen of Sedalia, among which is the right to speak out in open meeting.

Biennially and quadriennially delegates of each political party, in convention assembled, frame their party's platform, and declare principles which their party believes in. What material difference does it make as far as the welfare of our city is concerned whether our mayor is a democrat or republican? It is only when a mayor or other city official begins to play petty party politics, and tries to serve himself or his party rather than the city, by building up a personal or party machine, through the dispensation of patronage or discrimination in the enforcement of the law, that his official conduct becomes disgusting and contemptible, if not

> What we want are officers broad enough and large enough and honest enough to serve the people faithfully and efficiently, without regard to their own party affiliations or the party affiliations of the people. Whenever we play party politics in our city affairs we betray our weaknesses and confess that our party prejudices are stronger than our honest political judgment, and that our party advantages are paramount to our real, sub- and let others in who will. Such is the truth, but such is not the practice. We exhibit usually a conventional carelessness and when we seriously consider t a surprising lack of regard for our own personal and business interests, n the selection of our city officers

In short, we play politics and in pursuing party or individual selfishness we forget the best interests of the city and the people living within its limits. We look at everything from selfish party standpoint, or what is still worse, from a selfish individual standpoint, and let the poor old municipality struggle for itself.

It would seem, however, that some method must be adopted to launch the candidacy of the different men for the different offices, and instead of the citizens of Sedalia assembling in a non-partisan convention and naming the candidates for the different offices, each of the dominant parties has met in convention and nominated its several candidates for the several offices to be filled.

Rightly considered, it is immaterial by what authority a candidate runs for a city office, whether under the auspices of a democratic convention or under the auspices of a republican convention, his candidacy should receive consideration from a non-partigle to the city's welfare. Now, we all agree that our streets and alleys were not laid out and constructed and kept improved for the use and benefit of loafers and vagrants. No man has any excuse for being a loafer and a vagrant in this day of easy employment and remunerative wages; and a vagrant is a criminal within the meaning of the law. A man who does not work, has no visible means of support, is a nuisance and ought to be removed. He is usually worse, for a vagrant is not only guilty of the crime of vagrancy. but as a genaral proposition he is guilty of other crimes. It is only the fallacy oughfare, which our men and women can travel upon with perfect safety, and upon which our merchants who have their businesses can receive and enjoy that patronage which their location justly entitles them to? know that the present city government is entirely inadequate to the his business interests by associating himself with a good, strong bank, whose progressive methods can aid him in financing his business. The methods employed

Do we want men like that continued in office, men who turn a deaf ear to the appeals of the people and a blind eye to the commission of crime and are too fearful and cowardly to act? Are our officers the servants of the people or are they a gang of cheap politicians, that make use of the offices which the people gave them to perpetuate themselves in power? Is there anything wrong with the proposition that all men should obey the law? Should not the law apply with equal force to all classes and persons? By what authority has a certain class of persons the right to vio late the law any more so than any other class? No man has a right to violate the law, and if he does he should be treated just as he is, a criminal. But our officers are satisfied with leaving well enough alone, and they are as blind as bats when it, comes to enforcing the law. There is no such thing as a bawdy house, a gambling house or any other similar nuisance in our city. If you do not be lieve what I say, ask Jud Babcock. If there are, why are they not put out of business? How comes it that they enjoy such immunity from the law? It it because they are conducted by such jolly good fellows, or have they purchased their immunity from the or whysoever the cause, they run in open violation of the law, and their existence is known to every one except the officers of our city governother people see without looking.

to obey it. Of course, our present city officials know that if they enforce the law they will bring down upon their heads the vengeance of every bawd and gambler in the town, but I am not wholly satisfied that the bawds and gamblers constitute a majority of

There is plenty of room in Sedalia for every sort of legitimate business, but we haven't an inch to spare for those who want to engage in business in violation of the law. I know there are lots of men who enjoy a friendly game of poker, but there are very few who make a living by gambling, and the community would be better off without them than with them. It may be more profitable for our present city officers for such institutions to exist and thrive, but the people generally of this city are deriving no benefit from their existence, and an honest enforcement of the law requres that they should go. Besides. when it comes to the enforcement of the law, can an officer, in good conscience, and in obedience to the oath of his office, do less than see that the people generally obey the law? Is not that one of the purposes for which they are elected? And when we know what the duty of an officer is and the oath he took and the power which the law invests him with, is it not just a little strange and a trifle suspicious that the law is not enforced? Why do we police our cities and put blue uni forms and brass buttons on our policemen and arm them with pistols and billies, if he not to enforce the law? They are not such Apollos that we should adorn our city with them, for while they are a thing of beauty they lack a whole lot of being a joy forever, unless they do their duty Instead of our officers looking pretty and waxing fat, let them go to work and do their duty as fearless officers should. Of course, you can not blame the policemen. They get their orders from headquarters and do only what they are told to do, nothing more, nothing less. Those who are engaged in a business that is not sanctioned by the law know full well their friends, and we can rest assured that Mr. Babcock will not be dealt with unkindly at their hands. Hs is a man after their own hearts, and they love him like a pig loves slop.

Those who believe that the law should be impartially enforced, without fear or favor to anyone, must of necessity vote for Mr. Mellor, because his only opponent is Mr. Babcock. And those who believe that those who are now engaged in illegitimate business should be permitted to pursue their nefarious calling must of necessity vote for Mr. Babcock, for Mr. Mellor is his only opponent. No one should be uncertain or in doubt as to the issue. The best way of judging Mr. Babcock's future is by his past, and judging by the past we have nothing to hope for the future, for if Footwear

Huckins Hotel Building.

T. W. Bast, the architect, has been engaged by E. G. Cassidy to prepare plans for remodeling the Huckins netel building, at the northeast corner of Second street and Lamine avenue, at an approximate cost of $30,000. The improvement calls for the addition of fifty new rooms, which when finished will give the hotel a total of 125 rooms, fifty of which will be equipped with baths and all with hot and cold water.

The lobby of the hotel will be materially altered and beautified, necessitating an expenditure of $3,500. Marble wainscoting will be a feature or the improvement, while the hotel throughout will be made modern in every detail.

Mr. Bast will have the plans finished within a few days and as soon as approved the contract will be let in order to have the work completed by. September 1, 1910.

When Mr. Cassidy's plans are executed the Huckins hotel will be one of the finest, most thoroughly convenient and most perfectly equipped grand opening chorus, a grand- with all conveniences of any hotel in Bradbury, of Jefferson City, both candidates for railroad commissioner, and E. W. Stephens, of Columbia.

Mr. Francis was the first of the four democratic aspirants for the United States senatorial nomination to be heard last night. He was introduced in flattering terms by E. W. Stephens, of Columbia, chairman of the press committee of the democratic state committee and former president of the National Press associa-

James A. Reed, of Kansas City; Sterling P. Bond, of St. Louis, and J. D. Shewalter, of Independence, others who would succeed Senator Warner, spoke in the order named. The circuit court room was packed when the senatorial candidates were presented.

Mr. Reed attacked the republican tendency to centralization of power, ridiculed President Taft's efforts to hold his party together on the tariff issues, flayed the trusts and said he was unwilling to "see a policy initiated which creates paternalistic government, treats free citizens as children and reduces the American citizen to a condition of peonage not distinguishable in its last analysis from slavery."

Messrs. Bond and Shewalter spoke along similar lines, denouncing a government that violated the Jeffersonian doctrine of "equality of opportunity."

The gathering was lacking in discord and an echo of the Kansas City harmony meeting was heard at the conferences of the morning and afternoon between the editors, state officials and various candidates.

School district and precinct organization plans were discussed, also methods of better acquainting the rural voters with the important issues of the approaching campaign.

Governor Francis struck the keynote when he said he was more interested in seeing Missouri redeemed from republican supremacy than in being elected to office himself.

"We should make up our minds in he beginning," he declared, "not to waste our ammunition in fighting each other, but to save all of our fire for the common opponent. The republicans cannot again carry Missouri if we are united and we must be united. We never had a better prospect."

After the speaking at the circuit court room at night members of the convention were the guests of the Democrat-Sentinel at a banquet at the Antlers hotel, which lasted until the early hours of he morning.

At this banquet speeches were made by Congressmen Borland, Representative Hawkins, of Greene county; Hon. E. W. Stephens, H. B. Shain, W. G. Lynch and others, and the occasion served to further cement the fraternal spirit that now unites the members of the democratic party throughout the state.

The convention and all the circumstances connected with it has been of great help to democracy, and its in fluence will without doubt be felt in the contests that will come up in the near future in city and county elections in the Seventh district of Mis-

Perfect harmony prevailed and a spirit of fraternalism was plainly in evidence during the entire sessions of the convention.

There was also, of course, and bowel troubles. Sold by W. E. a well-stocked medicine closet, containing all the simpler drugs and a pair of druggist's scales, and the doctor was called in only for extreme exigencies. If one had an earache, a teaspoonful of sweet oil was warmed over the flame of a candle, three drops of laudanum added-which mamma blended with a convenient hairpinthe whole mess was decanted into the distressed member, a pledget of cotton batting corled it into place, and that was the end of it. If one was "chilling," cholagogue was administered by the ample tab'c poonful, or quinine in powders wa got down by the aid of jam. For an unidentified pain in one's little insides which refused to yield to the soothings of a bag of hot salt, the scales weighed out an eighth of a grain of morphine, and castor oil. "bluemass" and paregoric were set on the track of most of the flesh's ills and chased each other, and incidentally the ailment, all about one's helpss nineteenth century interior. But the family pill was the specific relied upon for nine out of ten maladies. It was usually some simple compound, such as calomel, rhubarb and Dover's powders, put together by the booted, hard-riding family doctor to save himself from useless night calls, and each household could produce irrefragable evidence of the almost miraculous potency of its own peculiar combination. -Elizabeth Bisland in North American

Reputation For Best Values in All Departments ALIKE is the Best Advertising of This Store.

And we have that reputation, only as the RESULT OF MERIT, in strenuously striving to out-do all former achievements, and have our merchandise (of every kind) better than it is possible for you to buy from any opponent for your patronage.

HOW WELL WE HAVE SUCCEEDED

In this endeavor to have each distinct department a specialty store in itself, equipped at all times with plenteous stocks and matchless values, is best known when one considers the uniform growth of each separate section of the store. The entire store, ever since its opening day in Sedalia, has grown steadily and firmer in public favor, and has trebled in size in less than five years, as a natural sequence of such approval, making a record for itself without a parallel in Central Missouri.

BUSINESS IS A BATTLE

Devoid of sentimentality, and "to the victor belongs the spoils." Growth and success have come to us, only as the result of giving service and best values. We assure you of our appreciation, of your recognition of our success in building a store known as the best in each of its several departments. Continue to give us your support and we will continue to grow, and you can use this store as

An Eye-Witness Describes Bearing of the Doomed Man in Presence of His Judges.

"The whole thing was stage managed like a drama and its end was not less certain and foreseen, says Percival Gibbon in McClure's in writing of the Ferrer trial.

"They brought Ferrer in and placed him at the bar of the court, with a sentry beside him; and the spectators rustled and fidgeted to see him close at hand. Under their curious eyes the doomed man shrank and was uneasy. People saw him with astonishment. He had the manner and all the outcountry schoolmaster, of anything subordinate and plodding and uninspired. He was middle-aged and of the middle stature, with a round, dull face and a short, pointed gray beard. There was nothing to distinguish him To all parts of the city. Prompt ser from thousands of men in Spain toreserve and incuriousness are exaggerated to a sort of atrophy of the faculties. He showed no trace of that fervency and power that had made him the enemy of the government and sustained him through years of war against the bureaucracy and clericalism in Catalonia. It was only when at Saturday issued marriage licenses to some turn in the proceedings he looked up quickly that people were able to see that the eyes in the patient face were steady and of a peculiar brightness. "A military court does not pronounce sentence at the end of the case, and when Ferrer was taken out from court no word of death had been spoken. But he knew and the others knew that he went forth doomed." .

North Platte, Neb., March 26 .-After being estranged for ten years, Col. "Buffalo Bill" Cody and his wife have settled their differences and become reconciled, and tonight the reunited couple is holding a reception which every person in North Platte is attending.

The reconciliation came as a com plete surprise to friends, and is due to the efforts of Cody Beals, the colonel's grandson, who some days ago telegraphed the old scout to come to North Platte and spend the Easter holiday at his old home.

Col. Cody accepted the invitation and meeting his wife the reconcila-

Title of Indians Helping Uncle Sam with One of His Reclamation Projects.

Uncle Sam found the Indian such a good workman in the year 1909 that he has formed an entirely new opinion of that erstwhile troublesome person. Of course there are still many red men on reservations living off the bounty of this government and showing no disposition to get out and earn ! a living, but their number is becoming maller every year.

Last year the Blackfeet tribe put their shoulders to the wheel and made the reclamation services Blackfeet project in Montana a big success. Other kinds of labor, says the Van Norden Magazine, simply could not be had. So the red man was the sole reliance of Director Newell.

As in the case of the Apaches of Arizona, the Blackfeet proved to be men of their word. They wanted to know just how many hours they were to work and the character of the work they were to do. Then they went at it with a will, and never did they shirk or make excuses. Once the time for quitting came, however, they knocked off with all the gerness and promptness of union en. They displayed remarkable inelligence and eagerness to learn. Moreover, they gave evidence of a desire to take up the ways of the civilized, to live in houses and observe the

to obey the law, anyhow. If, then, the saloon keepers are going to obey the law, and I presume they are, at least those who are now running respectable places, then Mr. Babcock is powerless to help them, and Mr. Mellor is poweriers to hurt them. The people of this community have decided in favor of the saloon and we should accept their decision as final and conclusive. A great many of our people have a woeful misconception of those who are engaged in the liquor business. To them a saloon man is an emissary from satan, conducting a sort of branch hell here on earth. Now I know different because I have been there. It is the fault of the man who drinks, and not the man who sells. But I would say this to the liquor men, that it is not to their best interest to take a stand for or against this or that man, because the latter happens to be in favor of enforcing the law. I take it that the liquor business, when conducted in obedience to the law, is as legitimate as any other business, and it is only when it is conducted in violation of the law that the person so conducting it need fear. While I am opposed to doing away with the saloons, and am utterly opposed to prohibition, I am not in favor of any saloon keeper violating the law, or running a place that can be justly designated a nuisance. It is greatly due to the existence of such places that the business has suffered so much from the hands of the people in the last few taught to work independently, and to years, and people generally resent any opposition from that source against a man, simply because he inated a crank or fanatic, and no one Baker's reappointment, and let the as that employed in the men's uni- fore I can not see, as I said before, If I understand the people of this city be against him and in favor of Bab. > Timothy Woodruff, and Sedalia, not to be outdone by any of its metropoli- it and our city government. It de tan competitors, has its boss, who outrivals them all, in the person of Charlie Baker. He is the man behind the throne, the power that pulls the strings. He moves the mayor and the city aldermen with as much ease and grace as a professional chess layer moves the titular dignitaries of the chess board. When he pulls the strings the puppets howl, and they come or go at his beck or call. He is the all end and end all of our present city government. From time, whereof the memory of man runneth not the contrary, he has been our city clerk, and by virtue of that appointive office, has been the governor of our town. By some sort of legerdeman, whether the city uncil was republican or democratic, he has kept his office and has now held it for such a length of time that he thinks he owns it by limitation or prescripion. Our city council cannot legislate, or the mayor act, without first getting permission from Mr Baker, and he marks well the limits of the permit. The city cannot let a contract to pave a street, build a sidewalk or construct a curb without first consulting Mr. Baker, and the contractor onto his job, bothers himself about no one else. He boasts of his long tenure in office, and says he will not quit under fire. Well, I would like to see the color of the man's hair running as a democrat for al derman that would vote for Mr

many years. He has gotten all the honor he can possibly get out of the office, and unless I am mistaken the salary would not form a sound inducement. Why, then, does he want it. Is it simply to boast that for so many years he has been mayor of this city, and have his descendants to presume his popularity from the length of time he held office? Is i because he wants to make the office of mayor an adjunct to his party, and use it for purposes for which it was never intended?

Mr. Babcock has had abundance of time to retire from the office he now holds and since he has not, we will crush him with a landslide that will take his breath away. Mr. Mellor understands full well that he will have to make good as mayor and that this is an opportunity of his life. Now is the appointed time to make a reputation for himself, and consequently he will work and struggle harder for the city than Mr. Babcock will. Mr. Mellor's future is before him. Mr. Babcock's future is behind bim, and time is too short to push it to the front

In conclusion, I have this to say: know that my speech will make a great many people mad, and a great many people glad, and I only hope I have made more people glad than I have made mad, but whether I have or not, I have had the boldness to express my honest opinions, opinions which I intend to act upon myself at the moment of voting, and which I now have the temerity to recommend o the consideration of others.

AT WOOD'S OPERA HOUSE. "The Climax."

There has been a great deal of interest manifested in the forthcoming engagement of Joseph Weber's charming play, "The Climax." a comedy drama in three acts by Edward Locke, with incidental music by Joseph Carl Breil, which will have its first local hearing at Wood's opera house Tucsday, March 29.

"The Climax" is said to be the one big success of the year, scoring a most unprecedented triumph at Weber's famous New York play house, where it was seen for many weeks. It will undoubtedly be the strongest

Saloon Thought No. 349

How many homes would have been built in Sedalia this summer if we had not spent $2,000,000 in our saloons in the last two years. Think of the hundreds of people that could have had a START at a home this summer or been able to pay rent on a better home and pay a man with money to build houses to rent. The saloons pay into the city treasury only a small fraction of the money they collect. It is almost nothing to what the brewer gets, and what good has this waste of $2,000,000 been to Sedalia. Think of the carpenters, concrete men, laborers, etc., that would be at work in Sedalia building homes, if this $2,000,000 had gone over our merchants' counters and made the people happy and comfortable. This letter proves what we say here:

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 28, 1910. Mr. E. A. Scrogin, 1200 Security Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:-You have asked us the question, "What effect has local option had on our business since it went into effect." In reply we wish to say that our business has been better in every respect. There have been a great many more buildings built in the last two years than ever before in the history of our city.

While we do not offer this as an authority, we understand that more buildings have gone up here than in Danville, Bloomington and Springfield combined. These, as you know, are all "wet" towns. We know that Decatur's present prosperity is unequaled and we certainly think it will continue so as long as local option law is in effect. Yours very truly - W. Humphrey.

GERMANS HAVE BUILT A CHURCH AND HOSPITAL IN THE OLD CITY.

REMARKABLE CHANGE OF SYSTEM

Officers for Prussian Guards in Future Are to Be Selected for Worth and Merit and Not Because of Influence.

BY STEVEN BURNETT. International News Service.

Berlin, March 26.—In a few days the eyes of all pious people in Germany will be turned to Jerusalem. A German church and hospice to be known as the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria Foundation, after the Kaiserin, will be consecrated on April 9 in the Presence of Prince Eitel Frederick, his consort and his only sister, the youthful Princess Victoria Louise.

The imperial pilgrims will travel on the kaiser's yacht Hohenzollern and be escorted by a squadron of German warships. The church, which rises on the Mount of Olives, over against Jerusalem, will be devoted to services of the Lutheran creed, while the hospice will be used as a convalescent home for sick and suffering Germans in Palestine and adjacent

With all its modern appliances it is likely to offer a striking contrast to the ancient associations and surroundings of the holy places. The management of the foundation is to be in the care of the Knights of St. John, the famous Knights Hospitallers, who have carried on their benevolent work of tending the sick and wounded since the sixth century or long anterior to the crusades.

The kaiser is specially interested in the foundation, both because the ground on which it is built was a gift of a sultan of Turkey to his ancestor, Frederick William III, and because as king of Prussia he is hereditary head of the branch of the order established in Prussia in 1812. The consecration is exciting all the more attention at the present time when Germany is divided into two camps over the question of whether the Preacher of the Mount of Olives ever really lived

The official Military Gazette for the week makes an announcement destined to be of far reaching importance in the direction of a democratication of the Germany admy. Instructions have been issued that candidates for positions as officers in the Prussian Guard regiments are hereafter to be selected exclusively with regard to moral and mental capacity, without considering origin or birth. Heretofore, none but sons of the nobility dared aspire to guardsmen's epaulettes. The new system has aiready been carried into effect by the appointment of two cadets from the military academy at Gross-Lichterfelde as junior lieutenants in Berlin guard regiments.

The exclusion of the bourgeoise from the officer corps of the guards has long been a cause of complaint in Prussia, and the news that the war office has decided to break with the old system creates universal gratification. Complaint has not been confined to the general public, but springs from the great bulk of military officers themselves, the vast majority of whom are of commoner origin. In the guards, officers have hitherto been exclusively noblemen, and in the regiments of the line throughout the country the noble caste has long been overwhelmingly predominant.

GREATEST DANCER TO BE MARRIED

Plans Being Made to Give Mile. Genee an Elaborate Farewell When She Leaves the Stage for the Bliss of Matrimony.

International News Service. London, March 26.—The Prince and Princess of Wales appear to be absolutely tireless in fulfilling public engagements, and the prince especially is doing all he can to relieve his father of the dull duties, such as laying foundation stones and opening exhibitions, which are among the penalties suffered by royalty. They have both found time, however, to visit the house of commons, and few people are aware of the intense interest they take in politics. The prince has been in the gallery of the house on five successive occasions and has shown especial interest in the Irish question. The princess, who is looking wonderfully well this season, has made Broadstairs, the little seaside resort between Margate and Ramsgate, once more fashionable by sending two of her boys there to recuperate. Many years ago Queen Victoria often spent week-ends there, and many celebrities, including Charles Dickens and Wilberforce, made it their headquarters. There is now a rush of parents to Broadstairs, and the apartments are full of children of well known people, the parents evidently have an idea that their children might scrape up acquaintance with the royal young-Prince Albert, of Wales, who is known as "Lobster" at Osborne naval college, owing to his red face, is now completely recovered from his short attack of influenza. His young brother, Prince Henry, who is in his tenth year, promises to be the sturdiest and best looking member of the family. His chief amusement at Broadstairs consisted of burying his governess in sand and chasing stray dogs. The Prince and Princess of Wales will spend a few weeks at Frogmore before settling down to a very arduous season and there is a probability of the princess spending a week in Germany.

The London admirers of Mlle. Adeline Genee, the world's greatest dancer, are already making plans to pay an elaborate farewell to the fair Dane

Mr. Isitt managed to keep the secret wonderfully well for a long time, but the management at the Empire were at first strangely puzzled by the appearance. night after night, of a middle-aged. stern-looking man, with clever, clear-cut features and wearing spectacles. Mr. Isitt is not only a clever business man, but a great judge of music. He has composed several musical works under other names and is an accomplished pianist. Among Free Masons he is a great celebrity and this year is one of the grand stewards of the order. Although not a very wealthy man, he has a comfortable fortune, and Mile. Genee herself has, of course, accumulated a bandsome sum during the past ten years, and her final American tour will make her possessed of a dot which man brides would envy.

NAVEL SUBMARINE

Was Recently Demonstrated in London-Workings Really Wonderful.

International News Service.

London, March 26.-A submarine which will sink or rise in the water at will, without forward or backward motion, was recently demonstrated by Mr. H. Middleton, its inventor, in the swimming bath of the Northampton Institute, E. C. It was only a 7-foot model, but it fully bore out the claims made for it. Mr. Middleton worked out the idea some time ago, but has now brought it to perfection.

The submarine is provided with two "fins" on each side, as well as a propellor. No rudder is wanted, as the propellor shaft can be turned at an angle directing the boat to port or starboard. The fins consist of curved flexible metal plates, and like the propellor they are driven by electric motors running from accumu-

The submarine models can be propelled by the motion of the fins alone and it then appears exactly like some large fish swimming gracefully. By bending the fins into the correct position the boat goes under and travels at any depth below the surface. There is no "porpoise" motion, as in so many actual submarines when running under water.

The most interesting feature of the boat is its ability to "sink or swim." to the bottom of the both; then the fins were set in correct position for rising, and in a few seconds it had come direct to the surface of the preach at Quisenberry school house, a stone. THE LYRIC THEATRE

F. L. HOXIE, Prop. and Mgr.

The Lyric theatre, on East Third street, one of the most popular playhouses in Sedalia, was opened by Mr. F. L. Hoxie on Nov. 24, 1907, and has been a money-maker since that date, as evidenced by the S. R. O. sign frequently displayed.

The Lyric is a model little theatre of its kind, and is equipped with comfortable opera chairs and provided with steam heat for winter and electric fans cool the atmosphere in summer.

The program, consisting of the latest motion pictures and refined vaudeville, is moral and instructive.

Many Days Set Apart for Celebration, but Not a Country-Wide Day of Rest.

There is no regular national holiday in the United States. Congress has at various times appointed special holidays. Only the states can proclaim legal holidays. Thanksgiving day, designated by the president by proclamation, is a holiday in those states that so provide by law. The following are the principal days observed in most of the states as holidays:

New Year's day, January 1. Wash- Quartette, Magdalen Warren ington's birthday, February 22. Decoration day, May 30 in most states. Independence day, July 4. General election day, first Tuesday after first Monday in November. Thanksgiving day, last Thursday in November. Christmas day, December 25. Labor day, first Monday in September, made national legal holiday 1894. Arbor day is a legal holiday in some states, although the month and date of its observance vary. Every Saturday after 12 o'clock noon is a legal holiday in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland. Good Friday is observed in Ala-

In this article we want to explain to you the cause of skin diseases. and also offer suggestions, founded on reason and experience, which will enable you to cure yourself if you are afflicted with any of the various forms of this trouble.

The skin receives its necessary nourishment from the blood. Every pore is kept open and every gland kept healthy by continually feeding on the nutritious properties which are distributed throughout the system by a pure, rich blood supply. As long as this normal condition exists the cuticle will be soft, smooth, and free from eruptions; when however the circulation is contaminated with humors and impurities

For six years I was severely troubled with a bad skin disease, located principally on the shins. The trouble would appear in the form of small yellow blisters, characterized by very severe itching, etc. I tried sarsaparillas, so-called blood purifiers, salves, ointments, lotions and treatment under a physician, but nothing did me any good. Becoming discouraged I left off all this treatment, and just about this time I saw S.S. S. advertised. One day I decided to give this medicine a trial, and after using it for a short while I began to improve. Of course I continued S.S. S. and it cured me completely. Quite a while has elapsed since I was cured and there has never been the slightest indication of the return of the trouble.

I had a bad case of Eczema, it being especially severe on my right hand. I was hardly able to use my hand. I was hardly able to use my hand in my work. I tried a great many things in an effort to get relief, but was unable to do so until I read of S. S. S. and determined to give it a trial. I used several bottles of this remedy and it cured the trouble entirely. S. S. S. put my blood in fine condition and left my skin soft and smooth. Though this was some time and there has been no return of the trouble.

For four years I suffered severely with Weeping Eczema, located chiefly on the hands, both inside and out, and extended as far up as the wrists. I was under treatment most all the time, but could get no relief. One or two of my physicians said it was as bad a case of Eczema as they ever saw. I lost my finger nails once or twice as a result of the disease, and the itching, burning and pain I experienced I cannot express to you in words. I kept my hands bandaged all the while, but with only little relief. As I said, becoming discouraged, I gave up all treatment I was taking, and seeing S. S. s. advertised began it as a last resort. A few bottles convinced me that it was doing me good and I continued it, and in a short while I was entirely cured.

its supply of nutritive properties is diminished, and it becomes a sharp, acrid fluid which diseases instead of preserves the natural health and texture of the skin.

Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin is a sensitive membranous flesh which surrounds and protects the tiny veins, pores and glands. It is here the impurities of the blood are deposited, and the acrid matter causes irritation and inflammation which splits or breaks the thin, tissue-like cuticle, and the result is outwardly manifested in Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other disfiguring or annoying eruptive disease.

It can readily be seen that since Skin Diseases are the result of bad blood, there can be but one way to cure thempurify the blood. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are not able to do so, because they do not reach the blood. Such treatment is of no value except for its ability to temporarily relieve itching and assist in keeping the skin clean.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing all humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. The trouble cannot remain when the cause has been removed, and S. S. S. will certainly remove the cause. It cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, blackheads, etc., and all eruptions of the skin. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Despair and Despondency
No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the espair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG,

SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures.

Ask Your Nighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to date edition, in paper covers. TAXES IN THE OLDEN TIME

In the Reign of George the Third One Could Not Even Escape Them by Dying.

For taxes out of the common one must turn back to the days of George held in Washington, both representational your one's means." The army and the navy were in urgent need of Four brotherhoods of railroad em- money and the chancellor was at his wits' end. He thought of the dead and gravely suggested a tax on coffins. Which proposal recalls the day when one could not be born without involving a proud parent in a tax. A graduated tax. The birth of an eldest son, for instance, cost a duke as much as £30, whereas a cottager was forced to pay only two shillings. To be born

> Not only was there once a tax on hair powder, but hair itself has been called upon to pay its due share to the revenue. For beards were, at various times, taxed in England. Henry VIII. graduated his levy according to the status of the wearer, the sheriff of Canterbury, for instance, having to pay three shillings four pence for his beard, and Elizabeth fixed the same sum for every beard of over a fort night's growth.

NEW YORK LETTER

THE COMING OF EASTER MORNING.

NEXT WEEK GAY DOINGS BEGIN

Another International Wedding Wil Unite Great Wealth and a Title -Girl Is Daughter of Dead Copper King.

New York, March 26 .- Without bringing in any estimates of the professional statisticians, it may safely be said that many millions of dollars have been spent in the metropolis in order that Easter may be appropriately observed. Of course a large proportion of this tremendous expenditure has gone to swell the coffers of milliners and modistes-if such persons have coffers. The florists, new triumphs and foreign shores last too, are prospering mightily today, and the stock of many kinds of posies is hardly equal to the demand.

Easter lilies today are "out of sight," and only the wealthy may purchase the Bermuda variety. Owing to the early Easter and the exceptionally cool temperature on the Bermuda islands this winter, the lily crop has been small, and the prices, in consequence, range high.

Next week will bring about a revival of social activities, and weddings of folk of importance will be numerous. On Tuesday there will be an other international wedding, in which a fortune on one side and a title on the other will figure. Miss Harriet Daly, daughter of the late "copper king," Marcus Daly, has the millions and Count Anton Sigray, of Hungary, as much as a pound a day, and keeps

> But has he the fortune? Varying answers are being made to that question. Some of the stories coming from abroad declare that he is quite as wealthy as his bride-elect, has a racing stable that equals the famous one of the late Mr. Oaly, and is an immense holder of land in his native country. Other stories say that at the present time he is being pressed by the money-lenders, and has $800,000

> A suit was brought against him and he Prince de Braganza (who married Miss Anita Stewart) by one of these gentry not long ago. This brought out the fact that Count Sigray, through the money-lenders was financially backing Braganza until he got his share of the former Miss Stewart's

> At any rate, rich or poor, Count Sigray is a picturesque, dashing sort of chap. He is no stranger to America, either. He came here first five years ago, when he was entertained by the Vanderbilts, the Astors and other prominent families in this city and Newport. He has also shot big game in Canada and played polo in Cali-

A couple of years ago he fought a pistol duel at Budapest with Count Felix Harnoncourt. It was like most foreign duels, though-nobody was Soon thereafter Count Sigray came to New York on the visit that was to wind up with the present romance. He came over to be best man at the wedding of Count Lazlo Szechenyi, who is a distant cousin of his, to Miss Gladys Vanderbilt.

He made a striking picture in his brilliant uniform. Miss Daly, who was a guest, too, in the big mansion by the park, was as attractive on the feminine side.

When the Count and Countess Szechenyi slipped away in a motor every! one else remained in the house for an afternoon of jollification, and it was then that Count Sigary began his devotions to Miss Daly, though he didn't know at the time, at least, his friends say he didn't-that she was one of the richest girls in the town. During all the good natured skylarking of the young people it was noticed that the foreigner remained close to her; and during his two week's stay in New York after the marriage he frequently visited her home at No. 725 Fifth avenue, which is just a stone's throw away from the Vanderbilt house.

He met her abroad with her mother during the following summer, and was just as devoted. Then again they met at the wedding of the Count's friend, the Frince de Braganza, in Scotland last summer. Count Sigray is about thirty, fair of complexion, and much handsomer than his cousin, Szechenyi. He speaks English fluently and is of the rail-fellow-well met type, which Szechenyi is not.

Fat Defeating Extraordinary.

SLENDER Margaret Knolly, now, you please. The fascinating leading lady of the Bijou, now more facinat ing than ever, astonished all he friends on Broadway the other day by presenting to their admiring gaze a svelt and willowy form in place of the plump, not to say fat, outlines with which she gaily sailed away t January, After a good deal of diplomatic cross-examination from interested fat acquaintances the secre was cautiously whispered to a few dear friends, with the result that everybody knows it now. It was not exercise, nor fasting, nor sea air, nor worry about her new venture that had brought about this wonderful willow; change in the charming Margaret; no none of these; nothing but a simple mixture which all good druggists are familiar with and can supply at small cost, to-wit: One-half ounce Marmola one-half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and three and one-half ounces Peppermint Water. Grown folks need a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime," explained the nov slender Margaret. "It is simply won derful. It takes off the fat quickly,

QUEER STORIES TOLD OF HAP. PENINGS TO A CONGO EXFEDITION.

WHITE MEN WERE UNKNOWN

Clock-Work Elephant, by Its Queer Actions, Frightened Natives and Saved the Lives of the Explorers.

International News Service.

London, March 26.-Queer stories of native life in Central Africa were told by Mr. E. Torday in a lecture before the Royal Geographical society on an expedition to the Congo region. The expedition entered the territory of the Bakongo, never before crossed by white men. The "coinage" of the tribe took the form of bars of iron weighing 21 pounds, and valued in English money at exactly seven

As soon as the people heard that the travelers' stock of iron was nearly finished they began to show hostility. The crief brought about the climax by ostentatiously stealing our chickens, and this was, of course, a declaration of war. A less important chief came to me and explained that the great chief had decided to kill us. I replied that if he wanted war he could have it, and I would slay all his people with my elephant

He expressed doubts as to the existence of an elephant. Fortunately we had with us a clock-work elephant, which waved its trunk and walked. I wound up the elephant and made it walk on some boxes, and then the tent door was thrown open; the chief seeing the urcanny beast, wanted to run away. Mr Hilton Simpson, my companion, insisted that he should have another look, but this was too! much for the chief, for, shouting, "I am going to fetch those chickens which have been stolen," he ran back into the village and in a few minutes our property was restored to us.

I followed up my victory by proposing to fight everybody and everything with my elephant, and threatened to set fire to the rivers. To illustrate ou powers we burnt some whisky, and this quite convinced the natives that A sale on writing tablets, 5c to the white mer were able to destroy anything.

IN ENGLAND LEADERS ARE TRYING TO BRING ORDER OUT OF CHAOS.

NEW RULES FOR DIVORCE CASES

Magistrates Wish to Keep From the Public All Details of Suits in Which There Is Evidence of Wrong Doing.

London, March 26.—Parliament is in recess, but the different party leaders are as busy as can be trying to evolve order out of the politica! chaos into which 'he country has been plunged by the budget and house of lords controversies. No one can state precisely what will happen next week when parliament reassembles It is understood that the leaders o the opposition in the house of lords are in favor of bringing ferward their reform proposals in the form of de claratory resolutions. The government acknowledges the advantage of this course, having decided to proceed first by way of resolutions. If the opposition pursues a similar course. the two sets of resolutions could be compared. There are many members of the upper house who do not agree with Lord Roseberry's proposition of reform, but he is in constant con ference with the most influential members and the lords intend to show the government that they can play the game of political tactics as cleverly as the ministers themselves.

The government, in restricting the supply to six weeks for spending services, has acted on the close calculation that the veto resciution will be passed by the commons during April and that the crisis caused by the rejection of the proposals by the upper house will occur about the time who the present votes on account expire. The ministers by resigning office of ruptly under those circumstances would compel Mr. Balfour to face the alternative of forming a government and of appealing to the country when easury was empty and embar IV with the floating indebtedness 8 of ere was no authority for carryour i spending services, or else of ng the responsibilities of ad

The votes on account would expire before the crists over the veto came on, and the ministers would be forced to obtain fresh supplies themselves before resigning office. Probably this course will be adopted as the best method of meet ing the ministers' expedient of limiting supplies to a deliberately calculated term in order to obtain their continuance in office and to make it

> Lord Rosebery's motion for resolving the lords into a committee for considering the reform resolutions will not be taken up until April, and the debate may be adjourned from week to week and followed by the long vacation. The lords can easily contrive to defer action on the veto resolutions until' the ministers have renewed supplies and there is no risk of bringing the national services to a full stop by the power of the purse The lords can arrange the time table to suit themselves and have the crisis come when Mr. Balfour can take office and appeal to the country with out a financial difficulty over the sup-

A certain coterie of London social leaders profess to be alarmed over he number of Americans who take up their residence in England, establishing for themselves enviable places in society after securing secret decisions in the divorce courts of their native land. So much has been said upon the subject of secret divorce until it has become a public question and it is surprising to note that some of the leading men of Great Britain are in favor of closed sessions for divorce trials. Among the most conspicuous of these is Mr. R. H. B. Marsham, who has been a London stipendary magistrate for thirty years. He asserts his view that cases of misconduct ought not to be reported at all; they should be tried without the public or the reporters being present That should apply to indecent cases of any sort. "I arrive at that view," he says, "because I believe the more people see details of this sort the more they are likely to be led into immorality. The new cult must not be confused with the "rest cure," which, after all, is only the Italian habit for dolce far Americans who are inclined to niente. It is quite distinct and novel, think-and perhaps justly, in the light save that it was practiced by Rip of recent events-that stock gambling | Van Winkle and the seven sleepers of

Its adherents declare that sleep is the greatest medicine and the most powerful tonic in the world. In "rest cures," the rest is physical, not menta'. The "sleep cure" rests the brain as well as the body, and the pleasure seeker who can be persuaded to spend her week-end in bed, sleeping every possible minute, will not regret it.

The pioneers of the new movement, rapid turn-over of the money invested after years of experimenting, put their faith in the recent utterances of a Geneva scientist, who maintains in down temporarily, but speculative in- all seriousness that if we take thirtyvestors are still buying shares reck six consecutive hours sleep once a lessly, on the strength of tips from week we would store up an enormous gamblers in stocks. Large masses of accumulation of energy and prolong

This means that the votaries of the new "cure" must go to bed on Saturday night and remain there until blow to the week-end movement, the idea has caught on, and quite a number of smart women are "not at home" after Saturday afternoon. The "cure" is more pleasant than terrible, and it has the advantage, if it becomes general, of leaving our business arrangements unaffected.

Sign Language

An English ethnologist has discovered that deaf-mutes are frequently able to understandd the signs used instead of words by many savage tribes. Thus in Berlin he found that deafmute children understood, without previous instruction, the signs employed, according to Sir Richard Burton, by the Arapahoe Indians for such words as mother, sister, yes, no, truth. lie food, thinking, seeing, trade, day.

This fact, together with others of a similar nature, indicating a striking identity in the sign language used in widely separated parts of the earth, have led to the suggestion that mankind may originally have had a "natural language" of signs, common to all lect can only result the one way-sickness. The stomach is largely responsible for one's health and strength and as such it needs to be kept in a normal condition. If it becomes weak, the food remains undigested, ferments, and causes untold suffering. Thus you lose the strength-giving properties of your food and you become weak and run down. This is very noticeable at the beginning of Spring when the system is overloaded with Winter impurities, the bowels clogged and the blood thick. No wonder you have the "Spring Fever." Senate Discussing Advisability of Making Public Exhibition of Criminals' Pictures - Physicians Say Smoking Healthful.

P GEORGE DUFRESNE. International News Service.

Paris, March 26.-American girls have repaid the debt their country owes France for her assistance during America's fight for Independence. Lafayette and his followers helped American men to become free; now American girls have shown the girls of France the way to freedom.

The French girls have made a rev olution and have succeeded in liberating themselves from the yoke which men-made laws and customs have imposed on them for generations; and when I look for an explanation of their success I am told that it is all due to the American woman.

On the other side of the Atlantic woman reigns as a queen-often as a despot-and the Gibson girls, who have come to Paris from the United States, have brought with them the feminine tyranny which holds unchallenged sway in the great republic.

If those distinguished French offiers stood alone we should shrug our shoulders at what would appear to us but a manifestation of militarism, but the government of the day is with them. Of that I do not think there can be any doubt.

"We think," wrote General Bonnal very recently, "that with the powerful means of transport that we possess at sea and that England, our ally, can put at our disposition, the passage from Algeria and Tunis of 120,000 of Algerian and Senegalese troops almost indispensable for us to gain a first battle would not encounter insurmountable difficulties."

The military situation in France must be grave, indeed, if a black army is necessary before a "first victory can be won," but the problem has been put openly in the chamber without he slightest attempt to conceal the facts vis-a-vis with Germany.

advisability of keeping pictures of criminals which made a ghastly and morbid exhibition. The chamber has already approved the measure, but it excites opposition from the conductors of the journals who find profit in this "talage." Oddly enough, the Journal claims these days to have been of considerable service to the police by publishing two photographs of a murdered woman. In consequence of the publicity of its columns, the identity of the victim was estab-
